

Communion Liturgy

based on Frazer Mennonite Church's Vision and Mission Statement

Amy: Frazer Mennonite Church is a compassionate community walking with Christ toward peace and wholeness. Our restored relationship with God through our faith in Jesus Christ takes us on a journey together to discover God's way of living life with fullness.

Left: Acceptance of this journey challenges us to grow in our understanding of God's way through the conflicts, suffering, and disappointments we experience together. The grace of God is central to the discovery of this fullness. God's grace means that God accepts us as we are.

All: God loves us unconditionally.

Right: We demonstrate our acceptance of God's love by confronting our weaknesses, sharing our needs, and acknowledging our brokenness.

Amy: By being vulnerable before God and others, we experience the sense of belonging that brings the wholeness we value. As we live this out in our own lives, we encourage others in the church on the same journey of wholeness.

Left: Wholeness is the transformation of who we are into the likeness of Christ.

Right: When we are able to accept that we are imperfect, yet loved creations, we are better able to extend God's grace to those around us.

Amy: This inward then outward rhythm of grace is what keeps our community walking with Christ toward peace and wholeness.

All: Frazer Mennonite Church is a welcoming place.

Amy: A place to feel accepted where you are and encouraged to glimpse the possibilities of seeing yourself as God sees you; a beloved creation being molded into the likeness of Christ.

All: Frazer Mennonite Church is a connecting place.

Amy: A place designed to connect you with God and others in ways that address your deepest needs and encourage maturity and growth in your relationships with God and others.

All: Frazer Mennonite Church is a healing place.

Amy: A place to experience God's love and the compassion of others to bring healing to the pain we carry.

All: As we share this communion meal, we strive to live out Frazer Mennonite's mission and vision, with God's guidance, Jesus' example, and the Spirit's creative force.

Prayer

The Lord's Prayer

Our Father, who lives in our hearts,
Excellent is your name.
Your Kingdom come,
Your purpose and praise be done
In our homes, as it is in Heaven.
Give us this day peace and direction,
And forgive us when we fight with our siblings.
And lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from hurting people.
For thine is the Kingdom and the Power, and the Glory forever.
AMEN
